The image shows the front view of a calendar grid for the year 2026. It covers the months of January, February, March, April, May, and June. Each day is represented by a small square containing the day number. The grid is color-coded: Saturdays are in light blue, Sundays and public holidays are in light green, and school-free days are in light yellow. The year '2026' is printed in large green numbers at the top right of the grid.

The image shows the back view of a calendar grid for the year 2026. It covers the months of July, August, September, October, November, and December. The layout is identical to the front view, with color-coding for weekends, holidays, and school-free days. The year '2026' is printed in large green numbers at the top right of the grid.
